Why: Friendship is the catalyst for love and the foundation of every healthy relationship. God created us to need each other. We need friends and we need to be a friend. The emotional demands on women are vast. One of the ways God replenishes the emotional drains we experience is through friendships. Jesus placed great value on relationships. Many of you are lonely, struggling to find encouragement, someone who understands and is willing to invest time in your life. You are not alone. We are many.
